About Jo's Cervical Cancer Trust

Every day in the UK, around 3 women die from cervical cancer, with over 2,800 newly diagnosed each year and facing an uncertain future. In addition, over 300,000 women are told each year that they may have a cervical abnormality that might require treatment.

Jo's Cervical Cancer Trust is the UK's only charity dedicated to women and their families affected by cervical cancer and cervical abnormalities. We offer a range of information, support and friendship and are there 24 hours a day to ensure that women never feel alone at any stage of their journey.

About Theatre in Trust

Theatre in Trust was established in 1980 by a group of friends who enjoyed performing and wanted to support charities at the same time. Over the past 30 years, hundreds of thousands of pounds have been raised for good causes. The company has a strong link with Jo's Cervical Cancer Trust as James Maxwell, one of its founding members, set up the charity after his wife Jo died of cervical cancer aged just 40 in 1999.

Presents

HAY FEVER

A comedy by ~ Noël Coward

Directed by ~ Martin Amherst Lock

Date ~ Tuesday 19th to Saturday 23rd October 2010

Time ~ 7.45pm (6.45pm on Saturday)

Venue ~ The Arts Centre, The London Oratory School, Seagrave Road, London, SW6 1RX

About the play

Set in an English country house in the 1920s, “Hayfever” is a delightful comedy of manners and, since its first production in London in 1925, has become one of Coward’s most popular plays. It tells the story of the eccentric Bliss family and their outlandish behaviour towards their weekend house guests. Their self-centred behaviour finally prompts the guests to flee, whilst the family themselves are so engaged in a domestic row that they don’t even notice that they have left!
